Terroir/Vinification

Grade Auslese: Auslese wine is made from late-picked, well-ripened fruits only. Maturity and richness are bolstered with attractive roundness. The wine has generous body with pleasant sweetness.
Appellation: Rheinhessen: Rheinhessen is the largest winemaking area with respect to the size and quantity in Germany. This appellation is neighboring to the Nahe in west and the Rhine in east and north. Moderate valleys surround Rheinhessen that produces wine abundant in mellow, delicate, soft round, generous flavor with plenty of fruit. Representative varieties are Muller Thurgau and Riesling for...
